Friends and Personalities

Activity 1 ~ What are you like?

Circle the words that best describe your personality (use the dictionary if you don't understand a word).

Ambitious	Decisive	Impatient	Reliable
Arrogant	Dishonest	Independent	Rude
Bossy	Easygoing	Lazy	Selfish
Brave	Faithful	Loud	Sensible
Bubbly	Frank	Mean	Shy
Charismatic	Friendly	Moody	Smart
Clumsy	Fun	Naive	Sociable
Confident	Funny	Nervous	Spontaneous
Cowardly	Generous	Polite	Stubborn
Curious	Humble	Proud	Talkative
Daring	Imaginative	Quiet	Trustworthy

Activity 2 ~ Dialogue

~ Hi Andrea, how are you?
~ Great thanks, I have a new flat mate from Sweden.
~ Really, what's her name?
~ She's called Ida and she's my age.
~ Oh cool, is she nice?
~ Well she seems really nice, but I don't really know her yet.
~ So, when did she move in?
~ Only two days ago.
~ Cool, well I would like to meet her.
~ Well would you like to come over for dinner tomorrow evening?
~ Yes, that would be great. Do you want me to make a dessert?
~ No don't worry, you know I love cooking.

Activty 3 ~ Question Forms

Let us study the different ways to form questions

OPEN QUESTIONS (we answer saying in what way, for what reason etc.)
Question Word + Auxiliary Verb + Subject + Main Verb (base form) + Compliment + ?
OR
Question word + Verb TO BE + Subject + Compliment + ?

CLOSED QUESTIONS (we simply answer YES or NO)
Auxiliary Verb + Subject + Main Verb (base form) + Compliment + ?
OR
Verb TO BE + Subject + Compliment + ?

EXAMPLES (say whether they are open or closed questions)

What is she called?
What does she look like?
Does she like cooking?
Does her family live in France?
What is she like?
When did she move house?

Activity 4 ~ Talk about your friends and family

Ask your partner 3 different questions about a friend or a member of their family. Use both open and closed questions. Example: What is your mother like? Is your son shy? Where did you meet your oldest friend?

Activity 5 ~ The YES and NO game

It's quite simple really, you ask each other questions to which you must never answer YES or NO…be careful, they may try and trick you…

Activity 6 ~ Match the opposites

Rude	Smart	Generous	Shy	Boring	Adventurous
Thick	Polite	Stingy	Fun	Fearful	Outgoing

Activity 7 ~ Hangman

Taking it in turns, each student will think of an adjective from Activity 1 and the rest of the group will guess which trait they are thinking about by calling out letters. For every incorrect guess, a new line is drawn towards the hangman.

Activity 8 ~ False Friends

Remember that the following words don't mean exactly what you think they mean. With your partner, find a synonym for each word.

Sympathetic Sensible Gentle Rude

Activity 9 ~ Noughts (O) & Crosses (X)

What character trait am I? In teams (Os & Xs) choose a square and try to guess which character trait is being referred to. If you get the answer correct (you must have correct spelling & pronunciation) you mark the square with O or X.

When I go shopping I have to ask someone else's opinion before I buy an item because I am so…	I never say thank you, I push people out of the way and I talk to people in an unfriendly way. I'm considered…	I can't wait for more than 5 minutes for anything without getting annoyed because I am…
I love partying but when I have to get up early the next morning I go to bed at a reasonable time because I am…	I broke up with my partner but didn't have the courage to do it face-to-face so I sent a text instead. I was…	One minute I'm happy & friendly to everyone, the next minute I'm angry, then I'm happy again. People say I'm…
If I have something to say I just say it even if it's difficult for the other person to hear. Maybe I'm too…	I try to spend as little as possible and I always buy the cheapest things I can find. Friends complain that I'm…	I'm honest, hard working, always punctual and I never repeat anything told to me in confidence. What am I?
